EDITORIAL

Dear Reader,

Thank you for 2010, a good year for the journal, and welcome to the second year as Journal of Plastic Surgery and Hand Surgery, which we hope will be a rewarding year for you.

During this spring we will introduce the new online system for submission and handling of manuscripts that we have earlier informed you about. You will be able to submit your manuscripts via this system from 1 April 2011. From 1 May 2011 we will not accept any paper copies of manuscripts at all, only via the online system. We hope this will be acceptable for you.

By introducing this system we will hopefully speed up the time from submission to publication. The actual average time today is about 1 year for original articles, which we aim to shorten. This is however dependent of the number of manuscripts submitted.

The address to the online system is: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jphs>

1 April 2011: introduction of the new online system.

1 May 2011: paper copies of manuscripts will not be accepted for submission.

February 2011, from your editors
